Plot Sachin is the elder son of a rich factory owner. He is an arrogant, selfish and rude man who is obsessed with cars. He also doesn't care for his parents and has no respect for anyone. Sachin is on a vacation with his friends when they decide to go surfing in Haryana. Sachin is a man who believes he knows everything. Sachin is a spoilt, self-centered and arrogant man. He is a man who believes in the motto "Lahore-Delhi Road". When Sachin is caught surfing illegally in a territorial dispute area by the local police, his father dies of a heart attack. Sachin returns home only to be told by his mother, that his father died because Sachin had let him die. Later, Sachin meets Maya, an up-and-coming, beautiful, caring and sweet woman who is an administrative assistant at the company. Sachin and Maya start going out, after Sachin gets a new, updated car. Eventually, Sachin falls in love with Maya, but she is forced to return to Delhi. When she returns, she leaves Sachin, as she feels that he is not worthy of her love and will make her unhappy. Sachin is forced to take a job in order to support himself and his family. Sachin ends up working in a parlor owned by Madan, a man who was Sachin's father's business partner. Sachin is forced to work as a servant for Madan, who had called the police and Sachin over his illegal surfing activities. Sachin, eventually, gets a job in TV by an acquaintance of Madan. Sachin's work at the parlor is something of a conflict. Sachin's parlor boss is a woman, Janki, who is very demanding. She also intimidates Sachin when she wants Sachin to do things for her. Sachin's cousin Gauri is also a constant source of aggravation for Sachin, as she seems to be in love with him. In spite of these issues, Sachin manages to save up enough money to buy a car from the company where he works. Sachin, though, does not give the car to his wife, instead taking the car to Delhi and leaving her with his friend. Sachin gets into a fight with his neighbour, Ravi, who was sent by Madan to teach Sachin a lesson. Sachin goes to pick up Maya, who is mad at 82157476af
